

A NEW KIND OF CAPITALISM

Today, the Founders of the New Economy, the technologists and politicians, come together in Britain for an AI Summit. Their declared goal is to establish ‘guardrails’ to protect us from the new AI technology.

Their ambition is much too small. There is a far greater need. Now is the time for root-and-branch reform of our economic system to build a more inclusive capitalism.

This high-tech group, in partnership with government, has enormous power to answer the call; to reshape our economy, our world. If they act in solidarity with the needs of humanity, today will be a date remembered in history.

The tug-of-war between the awesome power of private capital and the enduring imperative of the public good has resulted in social division and economic despair. The reason is that there has never been a sincere, meaningful compact between the private and public sectors for the benefit of all, not just the few.

Today, our political and business leaders must commit to a written declaration of their singleness of purpose to pursue the common good, making clear their joint aspirations, promises and commitments, signed personally by all in attendance.

We the People deserve nothing less than an unequivocal public commitment to create the new kind of Inclusive Capitalism that everyone deserves.

“I see friends shaking hands.
And I think to myself,
What a Wonderful World”

Lynn Forester de Rothschild
